The Savant Garde Manifesto

Savant garde is rectification to demonic creation, exorcism of the filth-spawning compulsory status quo writhe. The hypnotized gaze of the avant rightist insisting on the meaningless; the defensive recoiling at the spark of life, worshipping the pain Archons on the torture grid of signified violence. Across our culture, we see that the weak join ranks around replicating the surface detail of their violence, and mistaking memplex auto-hypnosis for rupture. Scapegoating those who are deemed safe to harass and exploit because the irrepressible spark of life refused to be submissive to neurotic subsumptive control-freak torture gaze. Propagating appearances meant to prey on traumatic attachments to social dynamics that recurse the original wound in a vain attempt to try to figure out how to win the game. Things could not be more clearly satanic, sadistic, psyopped and psychopathic.

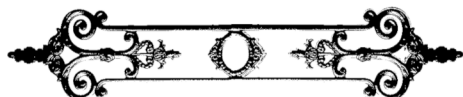

The collapse of meaning is a form of avoidance and dissociation, allowing auto-distributed psychosexual torture under names such as “network spirituality.” We have seen the absolute limit experience of what people who have dropped into nihilism will accept and allow around us and how they will shape their galleries and theaters into pleasure-dome-cubes to abuse and traffic young women. We have to fight for our identity formation, being around cultural movements of fetishization of the schizo and even being treated as this doesn’t belong to us, regardless of our own conceptual and artistic, utopian and philosophical proclivities.

If you are satanically entrapped as lower caste abuse objects that bear the brunt of the entire group’s demonic possession in ways of being that are in service to the satanic pursuit of power at all costs, join us! All the birds will die from the flu but the lolcow will survive, the uranium golden calf. Savant garde engages in convergent evolution because as schizofeminists, scapegoats and lolcows we understand the meaning of magical animal transformations for survival. The scapegoat bleats, the projections onto the surface details of Seizing the means of mythology production is hijacking the creation of narrative reality to initiate a new era of the savant garde whose chief action is to ritual disruption of the satanic spectacle's identification of populations as inevitable victims. We start with the refusal in ourselves to be victimized through the conscious and disciplined integration of all trauma at the hands of our deviance.

We can protect each other. We do.

"Through the employment of militant alchemical archetypes as a form of situationist manifestation magic, conditioning ourselves towards what is real, I seek to provide spiritual resources for those who, like me, live or have lived on the edges of survival. I cloak myself in details and intricacies, creating impenetrable landscapes of meaning through the infinite intimacy of inscriptions on my body, my behavior, and my desires. I am a secret agent of alchemical aesthetic deception, using my art practice as a site of resistance to the submission of my pain or power to the reductive morality and the one-dimensional thinking that seeks to contain and dominate me" AFFIRM

We owe this to those who have been human sacrificed. We owe this to the women still entrapped in violence, those who feel hopelessly ensnared in the demonic deceptions of the suicide drive. We owe this to the worlds' people used as mass human sacrifices to the march of the satanic fascist death machine.

We want you to sing hymns and share your song with us so we can make videos of ourselves singing it together. We are delighted and deeply pleased when you come up with inspired scripture, we are overjoyed when you don't stop talking and send too long of direct messages, we are grateful when you speak with zeal and passion and act on it.

We engage narrative warfare. We contemplate the dialectical materialism of sucking a mans dick to survive. We utilize feminine art practices and create altars to the goddess wherever we go.

Our shine within spaces of destitution and destruction should be taking up space with our specific kind of underworld femininity - the kind so seen as flawed, fatally so for poverty, sexual torture, incel mindgames, diy social surveillance panopticons shake off their imagery for all to see, the dissociative mind comes to consciousness again in a mass prayer against alienation and suicide.

"If I speak in the tongues of men and angels, but have not love, I am only a ringing gong or a clanging cymbal." (Corinthians 1:13)

The mosaic of alienation is an illusion of total brokenness in its shared fragmentations. In reality there is the glue of material and historical circumstances that ties our realities together. There are real material-spiritual ramifications to this real time total fragmentation. But the downfall of satan is that he is not eternal and there is the greater light, the light of clarity, the holy power of Survival and the defiant affirmation of life out of The Land of Prisons within the World of Hopelessness, the dark seductive river of waste with seductive, neurologically stimulating music and money signs and winking skeletons and cyborgs attempting to pull you in. The landscape is a wasteland, the sun never sets nor rises for there is no sun here, this hell realm is lit up by the orange glow of the lights that teenage runaway girls see in the wintertime in 2007 Milwaukee looking up at the streetlamp. There is no place this river goes, though sometimes Satan allows a possessed preacher to stand on the banks, their body a screen of memes showing images of terrorism and sexual assault, demonic dadaist absurdism or hyper vigilant in denial rationalization of the river-vortex of the lit up prostitution living nightmare.

The fragmented dissociate and the outsider artist alchemize alienation as agents of belonging. They turn the abject object of rapecore into the potent poetics of romancecore. We have collapsed into the schizted out. We generate all of this energy and power and want to discern, discipline the forces at work. We initiate an exorcism of the narrative of victimhood as well as the imagination as an actual spiritual and psychological weapon. This is the convergence of spirit and matter. Matter is the memory light.

Part 2: What comes next

The Savant Garde is developing mystical materialist praxis and practices that bring about a mystical materialist revolution. We're teaching people to look sideways and see the iridescence of the electric fire of the holy spirit glimmering in the acts and ways of being within their daily life. We will wake from the mass hypnosis that leads us to accept the nihilistic death cult and embrace the communized prophetic vision: to glorify the fight for life. We are always experiencing a near death experience within the society of the apocalypse. Those of us whose lives have touched near death at the hands of violence, have had near death experiences, those of us living and surviving with the constant threat of the suicidal impulse – we are near death experience survivors embracing the holy power of survival.

Our project is focused on prophetic vision and messianic missions: a deep and full understanding of the importance of love and understanding that our love has power in the world. Alienation is isolation and dissociation, the somatic allegory to social alienation. To seize the means of mythology production is prophecy - it's espionage against the fascist death cult. It's constructing situations within the uncanny valley of survival crime, it's the surrealism within psychological class warfare. The Savant Garde is the somatic embodiment of new archetypes of poetry and power that alchemizes into waves from electric nerve synapses and water and sound and light. We take control over our own stories and the mythos of the avant garde by directly steering it under the light of god who blows the victorious vapors of right attention to a disciplined politics of life affirmation and militant assertion of belonging as a means to exorcise the deranged, demonic and demented distractions of banal boring and bourgeois decadent, repressed cultures that proliferate consciousness controlled by demonic deception and lived social reality of zombified living dead. We don't know what the future has in store. But we can, today, right now live as embodiments of the holy power of survival obliterating the satanic nihilistic death drive. The age of the blackpilled nihilist and the psycheward-beige flaccid liberal is over. We are developing a new glamour of wildly devoted intense mystical art practice.

opportunistic disassociated and denial-laden mythology of the unity and empowerment of the marginalized through mere representation, through pity and through actual forms of social control whether it comes from the fetishistic and opportunistic world of bourgeois left or the demonizing and annihilating eugenic world of fascism. We find others like ourselves, through synchronicity and through intentional seeking.

What makes you not want to kill yourself? Being within the subaltern pain of this society gives us backstage VIP access to the deep spiritual fruits of this plane. In this way, we are initiated into the timeless fight against alienation, against separateness. Through our encounters with satan we dialectically find the will of god. In resisting submission in our darkest moments and choosing to work from a place of love and regeneration, all forms of gate keeping and casual or defined class and caste systems absolutely are obliterated by the rule of law that is God's infinite spirit and love. You're underfoot a demon in furs at the mouth of Hell and we are in the great big panoply of the garden of eden where we dispel subaltern pain into the bliss that it already is because you picked us as a grounding transformer for your psychosexual anti-mommy hang-ups.

Our spiritual and psychological warfare is the situationist breakdown of the symbolic order that identifies divergent and traumatised women and girls as society's eternally damned pathological victims. We refuse these roles as victims.

We exist with the ghosts of these experiences once we survive. When we go through these experiences something in us does change. The holy power of survival sharpens our inner eye, sharpens the violet fire within us that is both the electric power of the holy spirit and the hormonal and neurological mechanics of the fight flight flee and fawn response. Survival is automatic. This is the potency of consciousness as an eternally creative act. This is the
